

Informal Interpretation Report
Number 7157

Date April 08, 2013

Edition 2010

Section 507

Question:

Is it the intent of the 2010 FBC to allow deck style pizza ovens to be placed under a type 2 hood. I have interpreted it as being a light duty appliance, and the code only calls out conveyor ovens for use under type 1. However I have heard that other municipalities have been requiring type 1 for this application.

Answer

Yes. According to 507.2.2 a Type II hood would suffice.

Commentary:

Deck style pizza oven are by definition a "light duty cooking appliance" and the definition of Light-duty cooking appliances "...include gas and electric ovens (including standard, bake, roasting, revolving, retherm, convection..."

Notice:

The Building Officials Association of Florida, in cooperation with the Florida Building Commission, the Florida Department of Business & Professional Regulation, ICC, and industry and professional experts offer this interpretation of the Florida Building Code in the interest of consistency in their application statewide. This interpretation is informal, non-binding and subject to acceptance and approval by the local building official.