Section 1816

Question:

Not sure if I have the correct Building Code. My question centers on Termite Protection in Buildings. As I understand it a "preventative termite treatment must be provided by a registered termiticide or alternative treatment approved by the building officials". I am interested in taking the proper regulatory and research steps for the necessary approval for a Certificate of Compliance for Termite Protection" to allow for the use of our product in the Florida architectural and building industries. I would appreciate the opportunity to communicate with someone on this matter.

Notice:

The Building Officials Association of Florida, in cooperation with the Florida Building Commission, the Florida Department of Business & Professional Regulation, ICC, and industry and professional experts offer this interpretation of the Florida Building Code in the interest of consistency in their application statewide. This interpretation is informal, non-binding and subject to acceptance and approval by the local building official.
